SPF50+ BENEFITS:

How well a sunscreen works is determined by two testing properties:

- 1 The "sun protection factor" (SPF) which measures the degree of protection against UVB radiation (primarily responsible for the burning of skin)
- 2 The "broad spectrum performance" which is the degree of protection from harmful UVA radiation (primarily responsible for the development of melanoma and other skin cancers)

SPF50+ sunscreens have an increased SPF factor, and are required to meet more stringent broad spectrum requirements. ProBloc SPF50+ filters 98% of UVB rays and provides up to twice the amount of protection time in the sun.

The extensive ProChoice range of high quality Personal Protective Equipment is produced for the most extreme conditions and distributed by Paramount Safety Products.
